

MON.
10 Jan MAUD DIMICK

MONTPELIER — Maud Effie Dayton Dimick, 92, died Saturday in the Bear Lake Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

She was born Sept. 21, 1890, at Dingle, to Theodore and Lucy Ann Nate Dayton. She married Albert Stuart Dimick March 22, 1911, at Wardboro. They lived in Wardboro until August 1957 when they moved into Montpelier.

She was an active member of the LDS Church until ill health kept her confined. She served in many positions including pianist for the Dingle and Wardboro wards and sang in the mothers' choir. She was also a member of the Wardboro Birthday Club.

Survivors include eight daughters, Mrs. Vanda Mason, Twin Falls; Mrs. Theodore (LaRue) Skinner, Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Fred (Delilah) Hansen and Mrs. Don (Mary) Taylor, both of Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Shirley (Adell) Black, Georgetown; Mrs. Dale (Ruth) Kirby, Soda Springs; and Mrs. Wayne (Nellie) Price and Mrs. Cecil (Lula) LaRocco, both of Montpelier; two sons, Dayton Dimick, Montpelier, and Orval Dimick, Bancroft; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Dimick, Montpelier; 38 grandchildren; 96 great-grandchildren; and 21 great-great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband; a son, Cal; six brothers, Alma, Cloyd, Cyril, Elzo, Loren and Lynn; three sisters, Mabel, Mary, and Sarah; six grandchildren and numerous great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Montpelier First Ward. Friends may call today at Matthews Mortuary from 7-9 p.m. and on Tuesday one hour prior to the services. Burial will be in the Wardboro Cemetery.
